Thank you for your March presentation, and all you do!

Monday, March 15th, 2010. We had a STRIVE meeting. It was a very informative meeting as we had our fellow friend and mentor, Tim Griffin, speak to us about his life experiences in Vietnam. Also, he told us about the thrill of being in the air, the thrill of being a pilot. Tim shared his inspiring story of how his love of flying helped him through it all. Tim had also found a Froggy friend, while showering! I, myself, found the meeting quite enjoyable. I had never known, nor guessed Tim had been a pilot in Vietnam. I was also intrigued by the way he tied STRIVE into his experience: ya know, how being a team worker and a leader, are very important; To know what you want and go after it, and while in the process, do what's right, not just what gets you ahead. Thanks, Tim. I was inspired by your touching story.
